

Dick Mayer Wallops $50,000 Hole-in-One

They did it again — The $50,000 prize for a hole-in-one was garnered at 1 p.m. today by Dick Mayer, 1957 National Open Champion. It was reported Mayer made his "Fabulous Ace" on the second hole at Tamarisk, a 174 yard bullseye that he shot from the tee with a four iron. Mayer is the third pro to collect the $50,000 prize in as many as the $50,000 at Tamarisk. Palm Springs Classics and the second hole at Tamarisk, a 174 yard bullseye that he shot from the tee with a four iron. Mayer is the third pro to collect the $50,000 prize in as many as the $50,000 at Tamarisk.

UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL newsmen whose by-lines often appear in The Sun from news-fronts around the world are here to cover the Classic. While The Sun is covering it with its own staff members, Joe St. Amant, center, and Hal Wood, are covering it for hundreds of papers around the world. Here they get some late scores in the Bermuda Dunes press tent from one of the Classic's "Girls Friday," Shirley Florence of Palm Desert. Big scoreboard in the background keeps newsmen up to date on all scores.

CLASSIC NERVE CENTER

Over 150 Newsmen Cover Golf Tourney

By GENE JOHNSON

Top-flight sports writers today are using top-flight press facilities to cover the nation with news of action at the 1962 Palm Springs Golf Classic.

A crew of virtually hundreds, headed by tournament press director, Cliff Brown, has set up and is operating the multi-media nerve center on Bermuda Dunes Country Club that will be on the job until the last of over 100,000 words is filed from the temporary tent tomorrow evening.

When the last press-tagged car has left the club, Brown and his staff can only momentarily heave a sigh of relief. They must then start on the clean-up details, file away complete records of every stroke, and then start all over again for next year's "fourth annual."

Year-Round Job

"It's a year-round job," Brown testified between crises yesterday. "Of course, the hardest work comes during and right before the tournament, but all year long we're grinding out information about this big tournament." He does this in addition to his usual work for the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce.

An active crew of blue-sweated girls in white shorts does a man-sized job of communications and general handy-work to get the scores from the four courses to the nerve center. A total of 275 women, the "Ladies Committee" of the Palm Springs Golf Classic, handles this monumental detail of keeping track of over 500 golfers from the four courses.

A special telephone network operated by the "Girls Friday" at all the courses, relays scores to the press tent nerve center only seconds after the players hole-out on 18.

Statistic-wise, the press set-up is impressive, anyway you look at it. Over 150 members of the media are covering the matches, including newspaper, radio, television and magazine personnel. Top writers and photographers from United Press International Associated Press, and the leading newspapers of the area are here in person, using 18 typewriters, nine telephones and two Western Union teletypes set up in the press tent.

Brown estimates some 15,000,000 television viewers will see the tournament today and tomorrow on Los Angeles and national television. Los Angeles' KHJ (channel 9) will televise both days from 2 p.m. until conclusion, and NBC-TV will move in tomorrow for an hour's telecast from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

All three Palm Springs radio stations, KDES, KCMJ and KPAL, present almost hourly sportscasts from the scene, and the Desert Sun offers complete coverage of the event including everything from tee-off times to last-minute nine-hole totals before noon press time.

In addition to this big corps of workers who help the media bring the word to the millions of golf fans over the nation, other groups and committees are helping in other ways. It all adds up to an area-wide effort to bring the Golf Capital of the World publicity which can hardly be measured in dollars and cents.

Russ Blast May Bring New Tests

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Russia's mysterious underground nuclear blast was expected today to give President Kennedy further grounds for ordering big U.S. tests in the atmosphere.

An atomic source said the United States will start testing H-bombs in the Pacific no later than April if Kennedy "gives the word."

The Atomic Energy Commission, in announcing Russia's first atomic explosion since last fall, said Friday it apparently took place underground.

This mystified U.S. experts, who pointed out that it was apparently Russia's first test underground. They noted that Russia has shown no compunction about exploding huge bombs equal to as much as 60 million tons of TNT in the air. Experts could think immediately of only three possible explanations for Russia's sudden switch to underground testing:

—They possibly wanted to test the reliability of equipment to detect such underground explosions. They may have been testing their own detection equipment and also hoping to learn whether the United States could detect the explosion. The abandoned nuclear test ban negotiations hinged around methods of policing any test agreement, including ways of detecting underground tests.

—The Russians may have been conducting a purely scientific study, possibly of the earth's structure, or combining it with a military test.

Move Deprives Regime of Cash For Subversion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today ordered a complete cut-off of imports from Cuba in a move to deprive the Castro regime of dollars to carry on subversive activities in other Latin American countries.

His proclamation was the first U.S. followup action to the recent inter-American conference at Punta del Este, Uruguay, which sought to isolate Cuba and expel it from the Organization of American States.

The proclamation continued the present U.S. policy of permitting limited exports of foods, medicine and medical supplies from the United States to Cuba for humanitarian reasons.

Kennedy's order will go into effect next Wednesday. It applies to the importation "of all Cuban origin and all goods imported from or through Cuba."

Kennedy cited the decisions of the Punta del Este conference and authority voted by Congress to maintain an embargo on all trade with Cuba.

The action was sure of congressional approval. Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., who was informed of the move in advance, said: "This decision in effect will cut off more than $30 million a year which Castro has been using to foster communism."

Every Effort Pledged

The presidential action represents the first step taken to carry out the decisions of the recent Punta Del Este conference, where the American republics voted to "isolate" Cuba and "explore further trade restrictions." The conference countries also pledged every possible effort to stop Castro's illicit gun-running to subversive and revolutionary elements in neighboring countries. It voted to expel Cuba from the Organization of American States.

The United States last year purchased about $35 million worth of Cuban products, of which 90 per cent was tobacco. The remainder was sea food, fruits and vegetables.

Rusk said Thursday upon his return from the conference in Uruguay that he had learned the Castro government was using dollars earned from sales to the United States and others "to promote subversion" in the hemisphere. He hinted then that a trade embargo might be forthcoming.

Kennedy planned for the time being to permit continued U.S. exports of food and medicines to Cuba. These totaled about $13 million last year but were tapering off sharply during the last three months.

NEWS in BRIEF

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown will ask the Legislature for an additional 640 state-supported scholarships during the 1962-63 fiscal year.

The increase would cost $605,825 and would raise the number of scholarships awarded each year by the state to high school graduates to 3,840.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was still deadlocked today with the Senate subcommittee studying alleged Pentagon "muzzling." The State Department was an interested party in the dispute.

PARIS (UPI) — Right-wing political prisoners rioted in Paris' Sante prison for the second straight day today as the heaviest concentration of troops and armor since postwar days guarded the capital against any uprising to block an Algerian peace accord.

DETROIT (UPI) — Six policemen raced into a grocery store Friday minutes after. Walter Lattner, 20, told the owner he wanted a box of Easy Monday Sars. "I thought he said he wanted some 'easy money' so I screamed and called police," Mrs. L. M. Lake said.

Lattner did some explaining to police and then left, forgetting the sars.

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—President Arturo Frondizi was reported ready today to yield to the demands of Argentina's generals and admirals for an early break in diplomatic relations with Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Soldiers, sailors and airmen throughout the country were still confined to barracks.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An annulment was filed here Friday to end the marriage of Shirley and Salvador Love.

Floods, Fog Threaten As Winter Chill Eases

By United Press International

Winter eased up on the chilled and snowy North today, but brought flood threats to Missouri and killer fogs again to parts of California.

Heavy coastal fog, which reduced both ceiling and visibility to zero in spots, closed both major civilian and military airports in Southern California during the night.

Meeting Set for City Leaders

*RIVERSIDE (UPI)—City managers and administrators from more than 200 California cities meet here Feb. 14-17.

The City Managers Department of the League of California Cities meeting has scheduled talks on various phases of civil defense and finances.

Two powerful towboats were battling in the Mississippi today trying to break up huge ice floes, which threatened to jam the river in the snake-like curves north of Cairo, Ill. The mammoth floes, some of them 600 feet long and four feet above the water line, were floating downstream from the Illinois and Missouri rivers.

Warm weather thawing raised hopes that no jam would occur but brought flood threats on smaller streams in west central and northwest Missouri.

The fog that has been blamed for 31 recent traffic deaths again spread over the San Joaquin valley, although some clearing was predicted later today. The fog caused unscheduled vacation for some 70,000 Kern County school children was expected to end Monday.

Snow and freezing rain fell today from upper Michigan through the Ohio Valley. Several spots in the eastern Great Lakes region received from one to two inches of snow.

Snow continued to fall on the slush-filled streets of New York City and was expected to turn to drizzle later today making driving conditions even more hazardous. The metropolitan area has been under an intermittent snow attack since early Friday.

The light snow fell from Pennsylvania through New York state and into New England, with scattered rain and snow predicted for the northern Rockies eastward to Minnesota.

Elsewhere in the nation, fair skies and moderating temperatures were on tap today, the weather bureau said.

College Aid Faces Fight In Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate backers of the Kennedy administration's $2.6 billion college aid bill hoped today to keep the measure from foundering on the rocks of religious controversy.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., floor manager for the bill, warned the Senate against adopting any "crippling amendments." He urged passage of the pending version of the bill to meet an anticipated wave of new college enrollments in the next decade.

The bill, far more liberal than one passed last Tuesday by the House, authorizes assistance for college classroom construction, scholarships and federal grants for community junior colleges.

The divisive religious issue was injected during opening round debate Friday by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C. Voting on the bill and various amendments was put off until Monday.

Resort Area Smog Protest Goes Before County Board

RIVERSIDE — The Riverside County Board of Supervisors will consider a letter from the Eldorado Country Club board, Palm Desert, requesting prevention of air pollution throughout the valley resort strip from open burning, during the board meeting beginning at 9 a.m. Monday.

The Eldorado letter joins a resolution from the Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce asking tightening of burning restrictions in the county area. The Chamber's resolution has asked reconsideration of the anti-air pollution ordinance the supervisors had considered in mid-1961.

A letter protesting the proposed formation of a library service district in Palm Desert will be received from R. K. and May L. Hanson. The library service district proposal, recommended by a committee representing the Palm Desert library board and several service clubs, has been opposed by the Palm Desert service district that operates the water service to approximately 60 per cent of the community residents.

Four other items are of special interest to desert residents. The board will act on the recommendation for release of performance bonds on the Palm Springs Golf Club tract number two; consider a planning commission initiative for change of zone for property in tract 2248 in the Garnet area; and consideration of recommended changes in the federal aid secondary road system in the desert portions of the county. The final road matter on the agenda is an ordinance requiring building setbacks on Cook Street in the Palm Desert area.

Girl's Saddle Rode Away, But Without Horse

Karen Sue McNulty, 17, of 2132 Terry Lane, told Palm Springs police that her $300 custom made saddle went thataway, without a horse.

Miss McNulty said the saddle was apparently taken from the tack room of Los Comadres Stable at 1849 S. El Cielo Road, sometime between Thursday and Friday afternoon.

A $300 bridle went along with the saddle, 16-year-old Adriane Embree, 3940 Calle San Antonio said. Police are seeking a person either looking for a horse or a sales outlet for the presumably purloined gear.

ASTROLOGICAL CRISIS

Superstitious World Is Aquiver

NEW YORK (UPI)—A quintet of planets, the sun, and the moon move today into the bailiwick of the constellation Capricorn, bringing to a climax the worst wave of superstition in this century of science.

Not since Halley's Comet terrified the credulous in 1910 have so many millions of earthlings feared the omens of the skies. Most of the population of the astrology-minded Hindu world expect something dire (natural disasters are favored) to happen before next Tuesday.

Indian and American Merlins are pretty much of a mind as to the immediate effects of the heavenly hijinks. They'll be bad, and maybe worse. Contrary-minded are Buddhist astrologers who cite the phenomenon as a good omen of peace and prosperity for the Buddhist New Year which begins Monday. At least 22 Americans seem to be playing it safe. They are members of a California religious cult who took to the hills around Cleator, Ariz., last August, ostensibly to escape the pressure of city life. A former member of the cult says it believes Cleator will be one of the 12 places spared when a variety of catastrophes, ranging from tidal waves to World War III, strike the world Sunday.

"There is absolutely no truth in the report that we made a prediction about world disaster," said Mrs. Isaphene McGuire, cult leader, in a formal denial. "But nothing would surprise me in times like these. Naturally we are interested in what happens Sunday. Isn't everyone?" Sunday's close alignment of the planets that can be seen with the naked eye—Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn—and a total eclipse of the sun by the moon is a unique occurrence in the 20th Century but will take place again in 2000 and 2040. The last similar celestial show was in 1821 and the last such reunion in the "house" of Capricorn was in 1285.

The world's astronomers, true scientists, are taking the spectacle in their stride. They are peering with interest at the immutable ballet of the Solar System through their telescopes and awaiting the reports of two scientific expeditions, American and Japanese, which have gone to East New Guinea to photograph the eclipse.

But astrologers the globe over are predicting everything from a rainy weekend to the last judgment.

It Could Be That 'The Mouse Ran Up the Clock'

LIVERMORE, Calif. (UPI) — Even the efforts of a mouse did not stop police Sgt. Charles Redden from getting his man.

Redden and inspector Doc Blacklock were hiding behind a narrow early Friday after receiving an anonymous tip that the place was to be burglarized.

Redden heard and felt something at the same time.

What he heard was a rear window being broken and a lock being unlatched.

What he felt was a mouse which ran over his hand and up his arm.

The mouse peered for a moment at Redden's perspiring face and then ran back down the arm again.

Finally the intruder entered the tavern and Redden and Blacklock arrested Weldon Smart, 21, Livermore, for investigation of burglary.

The mouse made a clean getaway.

A major catastrophe, or disaster, is defined as an accident in which 100 or more persons are killed; a catastrophe is an accident which takes five or more lives.

Boy Admits Slaying of Small Girl

SANTA ANA (UPI)—A bespectacled 15-year-old mentally-retarded youth, who confessed he sexually assaulted, strangled and mutilated a 6-year-old girl, was in custody of juvenile authorities today.

Police said juvenile authorities would retain custody of Dale Norby Wilson pending a decision on whether he is to be charged as an adult in the slaying of Eileen Ryan.

The youth, whose parents said he has a sub-par IQ of 77, confessed Friday that he carried the girl from her house, killed her and buried her body in a shallow grave.

Wilson also said the girl awoke as he carried her from her bed Thursday night while she slept. But she trustingly walked with him to a vacant apartment.

Police said, however, there were marks on the girl's face, indicating she might have fought back before the youth subdued her. An autopsy disclosed the girl was mutilated by a pocket knife after she was assaulted sexually and strangled.

Moderate Factions Mix as Young Republicans Meet

ANAHEIM (UPI)—The California Young Republicans opened their two-day convention today with a contest between conservative and moderate factions for state offices.

The convention got underway this morning in the Disneyland Hotel with a keynote address by Pat Hitts, national committeewoman from Orange, pinching off former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, sick with a virus.

Attorney Robert Gaston of Los Angeles headed the conservative group which supported Mike Hudson of Burlingame for the presidency of the YRs. Attorney Harry Keaton, also of Los Angeles, who is the YR national committeeman, opposed Hudson. James Keyes of Laguna Beach, vice president of the YRs also sought the presidency.

They Broke Lock To Get at Jugs

Somebody popped more than the cork to get at the bubbly, J. R. Pettit, 2865 Livmor Avenue, told police today.

Pettit, who also maintains a home in the Los Angeles area, came home to the desert Thursday to find the lock mechanism popped from a sliding door. Two fifths of Scotch whiskey, and three fifths of champagne were missing from the house.

Too Much

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prolonged overdoes of vitamin A for several months may cause loss of appetite and weight, irritability, hair loss and itching rashes in a young child, Dr. B. Joffe, of New York, reports.

Parents overconcerned with vitamins often will give a child six to eight dropperfuls of vitamin A instead of six to eight drops, the physician said in a report in "GP," a medical journal. He said symptoms clear rapidly when overdoses stops.

Menace from Red Subs?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: How serious is the Soviet submarine menace? UPI's veteran military reporter gives an analysis of the Russian undersea threat in the following dispatch.)

By CHARLES W. CORDRY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Soviet submarine menace, a perennial source of concern, seems likely to get even more than usual attention in Congress this year because of several developments in Russia's ability to wage undersea warfare.

One of these is the long-suspected and now accepted existence of a small Soviet fleet of nuclear-powered submarines that can launch short-range missiles.

Russia is believed to have 10 such subs in various stages of completion. How many are fully operational is one of the questions congressmen will want answered as they consider the U. S. Navy's new budget requests for anti-submarine weapons.

Besides the nuclear-powered subs, Russia probably has 20 conventionally powered types that also can launch missiles. They are short-range missiles, able to travel about 350 miles from their deck launchers.

Polaris Subs Superior

There is some comfort in the fact that Russia's nuclear-powered, missile-carrying subs are not considered to be in the same league with America's Polaris missile submarines.

The Polaris subs carry 16 missiles each with warheads that have explosive force of about 300,000 tons of TNT and can strike targets at ranges of 1,200 to 1,500 miles. Most important, they can lurk beneath the surface at all times and fire their missiles without rising to the surface and betraying their whereabouts.

Soviet undersea craft, in contrast, have to surface to fire their missiles which means that defenses against them have more chance of succeeding. The Soviet subs also have to come much closer to their targets with their 350-mile range missiles, which further increases the chance of detecting them.

More Research Anticipated

Stepped-up research in the anti-submarine field and greater weapons production are envisioned in the new U. S. military budget.

For example, it calls for eight new atomic-powered attack submarines compared with three in the current year. Exclusive of the Polaris missile types, which are designed almost solely for battering targets deep in Russia in event of war, planned new orders will give the Navy 39 nuclear subs in operation or on order.

Over the past few years, while urgently developing the Polaris missile sub as a strategic retaliation weapon, the Navy has seemed to speak less loudly than previously about the Soviet submarine menace. With the Polaris now well in hand — 41 missile subs are envisioned — attention seems to be shifting again to the Soviet sub problem.

Spend a Million to See Why Monkeys Love Mom

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., reported with fiscal indignation Friday that the government plans to spend $1,201,925 to see why baby monkeys love their mothers.

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said he did not want to be critical of medical research, "but it seems to me that much more care should be exercised in the expenditure of taxpayers' money, even in this important area."

Also, he added, while the national debt has soared to nearly $300 billion, the government wants to study ways of using shell-cracker sunfish to control snails.

Another point on the agenda is studying the diving reflex and volume receptors in the seal.

Byrd said he learned that the National Institute of Mental Health made the grant to Dr. Harry F. Harlow of the University of Wisconsin to study the monkey business.

The Budget Bureau told him, Byrd said, that Harlow will study the "nature and development of the affectional relationship of the infant monkey and his mother," and will also go into more esoteric things like "visual exploration and curiosity."

"These research grants are running into thousands of projects which are costing tremendous sums of money," Byrd said.

Golf Classic's Ball Aids Hospital Fund

By HILLY CRAWFORD

It was one of the biggest nights in recent Palm Springs history as over 700 people congregated last night at Riviera Hotel's Mediterranean Room to attend a Palm Springs Golf Classic Ball that raised over $80,000 for the Desert Hospital building fund.

Bill Perlberg, who with Milton Preil heads up the drive to raise two million dollars for Desert Hospital, reported from the stage: "We've broken every record in the history of the town. We've taken in over $80,000 tonight . . . and turned away about 1,000 people."

The show as the kind that can only happen in Palm Springs and Bob Hope described it aptly when he called it a "Police Show in black tie." It was reported that Sinatra not only flew down here to appear on the show, but also pledged $25,000 to the hospital fund.

Elvis Presley didn't make it but his agent Col. Tom Parker was there with the word that the young singer is contributing $10,000 to the fund.

During the show Perlberg announced a gift of $25,000 from Louise Nicoletti. There were other contributions of $1,000 or more.

Can't Do Better

It was a classic show in the old Palm Springs tradition, staged by two winter residents, with home owning stars as the stellar attraction. Hope, who with his wife Dolores, was at the Perlberg table, acted as master of ceremonies. All over the country they'll tell you you just can't do better than that.

Phil Harris, who never says "no" when Palm Springs asks for his help, opened the show. He came on stage wearing a purple velvet dinner jacket and had the audience with him all the way as he sang "That's What I Like About the South."

The Crosby Brothers, Dennis, Phillip and Lindsay, came over from Chi Chi to sing a few numbers.

Sinatra and Dean Martin were introduced as the Hall Room Boys. They came on stage carrying glasses of milk just to show they really are backing the Kennedy program all the way. They offered a parade of hit songs.

Very Social

It was a top social gathering with the men in black tie (some in dinner jackets and some in white jackets) and many of the women wearing full-length formal gowns with their best furs and jewels and hair-dos. In the audience, which had more than a sprinkling of celebrities, was a representative cross section of Palm Springs in the winter months.

Among them the Harry Joe Browns, the Willard Parkers, Jack Lamberts, Charles and Molly Berns of New York's Club "21", Elsa and Bill Bassichis (just out from Cleveland), Art Larkin, Mary and Harold Hicks, Jimmy and Milt Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. David Margolis with their daughter Joni (Mrs. Robert) Blashek who is here from Scarsdale, N.Y.; the Sam Banowitz and Bill Leebis, Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller, Mrs. Harry Chaddick and Mrs. Cyrilla Holland, Charles Farrell, Drs. and Mmes. Alfred Strauss, George Kaplan, William Elliott, B. H. Poliak and Dr. Alfred Huenergardt, Mrs. Irving Florsheim, who gave a pre-Ball cocktail party, and hundreds more.

$100-a-Plate

What do you serve at a $100 a plate dinner? It started off with a hot seafood crepe, followed by hearts of palm artichoke vinaigrette, and offered a choice of roast eastern prime sirloin of beef or pompano saute meuniere with stuffed baked potatoes, french cut green beans almandine, and a dessert of ice cream mold with petits fours. The show which was late starting because of a reservations bottleneck at the door, ran past midnight.

IT WAS A SINGING, swinging combination when the Crosby brothers, Lindsay, Dennis and Phillip, showed up at the party, which Ginny Simms gave as a benefit for the Palm Springs Foundation for Mentally

Dual Purpose Achieved During Party

A cocktail buffet at the Calico Road home of Ginny Simms was at the same time, a housewarming for the singer's beautiful Thunderbird Heights house, a benefit for the Palm Springs Foundation for Mentally Retarded Children and a kick off for Monte Carlo Night, which the group will sponsor at the Desert Inn on Feb. 26. Assisting with the hostess duties were Mrs. D. D. Simms, mother of the hostess, Jolie Gabor, Mrs. Dick Deman and Marjorie Baron.

Joe Spata was there playing his accordion and Ray Corliss had arrived with a Mexican Trio, Pepe, Paco and Fernand, known as "Los Silhouettes," who sang Mexican ballads and folk songs. Roy Bradley of the Ranch Club supervised the buffet and hors d'oeuvres. Philip, Dennis and Lindsay Crosby arrived with Philip's and Dennis's wives and Pete Pettito, sandwiching their appearance in between an afternoon on the golf course and their first show at Chi Chi.

Among the guests were the Jack Lamberts, Cliff Hendersons, Carl Lesermans, Ed Robbins, Gita Alpar, Gladys Stryker, the Lee Cowans, Tony Cosentino (Grace was still in Chicago and due out this weekend), Mrs. E. F. MacDonald, Joy and Jim Welsh (who had been following the tournament play all day), Mrs. Julian Stiff, Delos Nelson (he flew out from Eau Claire, Wisc. for the party), Don Eastvold, Bob Taliaferro, the Ray Blumenthals, Molly Kenaston and Rex Bartlett.

Nursery to Patio to Be Represented

Everything from life-sized golden palm trees to the most regal baby bassinet imaginable will fill the booths that are being set up in the Pavilion by leading decorators and antique dealers of Southern California, as the Second Annual Palm Springs Decorators and Antique Show gets ready for its opening on Feb. 8.

As might be expected, the wildly imaginative golden palm trees will be in one of the displays planned by Arthur Elrod, who is recognized as a prominent spokesman for the newest in desert decor.

The regal-looking bassinet will be seen in a nursery setting that is being arranged by one of Palm Springs' newest interior decorator's shops, Billings-Jon.

Other desert shops will have equally interesting displays. Signature Marble and Interiors in Rancho Mirage plans to do a "Gentleman's Game-Study Room" in which many versatile uses of marble will be exhibited.

Palm Canyon Interiors will have a patio and outdoor garden scene. Charleston's Patio and Gift Shop will show the latest designs in poolside furniture and accessories. Nicholson's Furniture Company of Palm Springs and San Bernardino, and Michael Buccino Interiors of Palm Desert approach the show from a formal and elegant standpoint, showing how modern desert homes differ from their counterparts of even one decade ago.

Melba Bennett Originals will feature an array of artificial fruit and flower arrangements, fashioned as gift suggestions for Valentine's Day, Easter and June weddings. Mrs. Bennett's centerpieces grace the tables at Eldorado Country Club and at Smoke Tree Ranch, and her custom-made arrangements are carried exclusively by Arthur Elrod, Ltd.

Joining these area decorators are exhibitors from Los Angeles, La Jolla, Santa Barbara, San Francisco and Sausalito. Their displays will cover a wide range of interesting items.

For instance, the continuing influence of the Orient will be seen in a display arranged by Erawan

Asian Imports of Los Angeles. This unusual shop will preview a typical bedroom of the forthcoming Erawan Garden Hotel in Palm Desert, with furnishings and fabrics designed in the Orient and imported for this show. Also imported especially for the display is a rickshaw from Hong Kong.

Continental and English antiques, Early American furnishings, American Indian artifacts, beautiful old glassware, and a collection of silver considered to be of international importance will be viewed by those who go to see the Second Annual Palm Springs Decorators and Antique Show.

The show actually opens on Wednesday night, when St. Paul's Episcopal Church will sponsor a benefit preview from 7-11 p.m., with proceeds going to the Children's Summer Camp Fund.

The nautical feeling of the east coast marked the decor and menu at the big party given by Mrs. Dan Thornton and Mrs. Walter Cruttenden to celebrate their husbands' birthdays.

There must have been over four hundred people there and the party practically took over Thunderbird, with guests wandering in and out of four rooms.

Arriving guests walked in on a roped-off red carpet, with a stately, sea green Neptune standing alongside. An "Admiral" greeted arriving guests and ushered them up the gangplank (there was a seagull perched on a post alongside) and into the club house, where they were greeted by the sign "Welcome to the Internal Fleet."

By the entrance was a lighted showcase and feminine guests were invited to select a polished semi-precious stone on a ring and then given matching pill boxes, compliments of the hosts.

In the front lounge, dancers were twisting enthusiastically to the music of Pat Barbara and his orchestra, and didn't appreciate it when he switched to a welcoming "I Love Paris."

There were many decorations. Overhead a sexy mermaid reclined in a monstrous big seashell and in a doorway a gigantic shrimp blinked electric - lighted eyes.

In the big private dining rooms, there was a huge mural by Earl Cordrey, with a "Bears and Bulls" theme depicting Walter's stock-market activities and Dan's cattle raising. Alongside was a spout-fountain of champagne, and the big, multi-colored carnations had been flown from Colorado.

Overhead fishnets were draped over the ceilings and the ice carvings on the oyster bar were big fish with their tails in the air, with one of them nesting caviar. There was a piping hot pot of oyster stew, oysters Rockefeller, oysters on ice and hot crab meat canapés. All the seafood was flown here from the east coast. Just to keep everyone happy there was a great roast of beef and other assorted foods including two mammoth three-tiered birthday cakes. (Never did get past the oyster bar, myself.)

Special guests were the Walter Cruttendens Jr., who gave up Chicago a year and a half ago and moved their family out here to Corona Del Mar. There were many visitors in the big crowd. Happy Cogar was there with her mother Janice Chiquine Doud, and Maggie's two sisters, Mrs. Fred Gardner and Mrs. George Lucas who are here from Chicago for the winter, and chatting with Evelyn and Sydney Schiff.

A conversational group included the Frank Bennetts, Frank Berings and Mary and Harold Hicks.

Winsome Courtney looking very pretty in a short red chiffon, the George Barretts (people are still commenting on the "new" Marcia with the becoming short hair-do), Helen Detweiler (she was just going out the gate as we arrived), Joe Froggatts, R. R. Halls, Alice and Phil Harris, Maury Horners, Joe Hales, Victor Hugo-Vidals and their son who is here from Connecticut, Bud and Vic Graves, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Grow, Judge and Mrs. James Garibaldi, Maynard Laswell (he came for the tournament and she will be out in about a week), Fred Klemp, Ralph and Nancy Kiner, Margaret and S. P. Manasse, Jimmy Morton, Mark Kramer (he flew over from Denver just for the party), the Chauncey Needhams. Also: Ed McCoubrey and Judy Meyer, the Mel Eatons, George Holsteins, Eric Staintons, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Morrey (she in a beautiful gown embroidered with pearls), Louise Nicoletti, Trudy and Paul Reynolds, the Frank Ryans, Claude Valeurs, Russ Wades, Peg and Norm Waters, the Jim Welshes (they've moved down in front of Louise Nicoletti's house), Jock Williamson, the Jim Bradens, the Kent Hayes, Peggy and Randolph Christie, Doyle Cottons, Harold Coopers, Desi Arnaz, Bill Boggess, Velma Dawson, Lou Manseau (Ruth was making her debut after her first cataract operation three weeks ago and is scheduled for a second one in about two weeks).

Representing the golfing world and the Classic were Dr. and Mrs. Cary Middlecoff, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hawkins, Gary Player, Sam Snead, who came with his hosts the James Hilliards and the Claude Harmons.

In spite of all the elegant hors d'oeuvres like ham on tiny slices of brown bread, hot puff pastes et cetera at Ginny Simm's party, which was a house warming as well as a benefit affair for the Palm Springs Foundation for Mentally Retarded Children, we stopped off at Biltmore for dinner.

There was Larry Foy playing those favorite songs, and we sat and enjoyed watching the garden of citrus fruits that do their growing by night light, chatting with Dick Levin and inspiring the chef to do his best with beef stroganoff, tornadoes of beef and chicken in the pot.

It was all so good, we wound up having a cup of chicken soup for dessert (it's just too thin for a Bowse bag . . . and too good to leave.)

were at the meeting when Mrs. Kenneth Kirk, provisional president of the proposed Palm Springs Chapter, on right, held a preliminary meeting at the Tennis Club. (P.S. NewsPhoto)

Charity Is a Family Matter

A group of Palm Springs mothers gathered about the luncheon table at the Tennis Club to hear national officers of the National Charity League tell of the mother-daughter program. It was an exploratory meeting, called by Mrs. Kenneth Kirk, president of the provisional chapter that will probably be formed here.

The luncheon was given by the National Charity League, which was represented by Mrs. John A. Stransky, president of the national board, and Mrs. Tom B. Richardson, vice president and national expansion chairman, of Los Angeles.

Founded in Los Angeles in 1925 as a non-profit organization devoted to social, cultural and philanthropic purposes, the program encompasses the mothers who are known as Patronesses and the girl's organization, which begins in the seventh grade and continues through college, and is known as the Ticktocker. The Ticktocker motto is "We search for charity within ourselves and seek for graciousness to share it with others."

Each is required to give not less than 60 hours a year to charity, and, at an annual recognition program, awards are given to those contributing the most hours.

Ticktocker projects include knitting for Red Cross, making baby sacques and other items for the County Hospital, sponsoring booths donating items to thrift shops and other charitable work.

Characteristic of the close mother-daughter relationship upon which the program is based is the annual tea party at which the girls plan the menu, learn to pour and receive guests.

Mothers attending the preliminary discussion luncheon at the Tennis Club were Meses. Clarence Irvine, Warren Slaughter, Dan Wagner, Joel Stone, Robert Backstrom, Arthur Coffey, Cliff Brown, Arthur Rolapp, Tom Kieley, William Cody, Frank Hilton, George Berkey, Roy Colegate, William Elliott and Eugene Nance.

Mrs. Kirk said that the next move would probably be a mother-daughter tea for prospective members. It is planned to have around 30 mothers and daughters in the provisional organization.

JOHN GUARNIERI, tenor will be a feature attraction on the program arranged for Monday's meeting of Palm Springs Woman's Club.

Palm Springs Woman's Club Will Hear Musical Program

Members and guests of Palm Springs Woman's Club are looking forward to a fine musical program on Monday, Feb. 5, at 2 p.m., in the clubhouse, when personable young California soprano, Dolores Davis, and John Guarnieri, tenor, are to be featured. The talented artists, both have notable musical backgrounds. In television he has sung the Miss Davis trained operatically, singing with Dr. Jan Popper, Madame Lotte Lehmann and Dr. Herbie Graf of Metropolitan Opera, and her opera credits include Gilda in "Rigoletto," leading roles in "La Boheme," "Lucia," "Mag-ic Flute" and "Barber of Seville." She has also made concert appearances with the L.A. Chamber Symphony, LaJolla Symphony and Aspen Music Festival and appeared with Lawrence Melchior in Las Vegas.

A leading tenor with the Los Angeles Grand Opera Co., Guarnieri is a descendant of a line of Italian violin makers of the 17th and 18th Centuries. A soloist in Hollywood Bowl and Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, he began singing at 15, playing the leading student performances at Carnegie Hall and Madison Square Garden. He has sung the leading roles in "Brigadoon," "Fanny," "Student Prince" and "Call Me Madam." In television he has sung the Miss Davis trained operatically, singing with Dr. Jan Popper, Madame Lotte Lehmann and Dr. Herbie Graf of Metropolitan Opera, and her opera credits include Gilda in "Rigoletto," leading roles in "La Boheme," "Lucia," "Mag-ic Flute" and "Barber of Seville." She has also made concert appearances with the L.A. Chamber Symphony, LaJolla Symphony and Aspen Music Festival and appeared with Lawrence Melchior in Las Vegas.

Following the program, Mrs. Daniel McCauley, tea chairman, will preside at the tea table. On her committee are Meses. Stanley Jones, Ray Littleton, Frank Milner, John Munholland, Robert Morris and Glenn Watson.

HOCKEY ON PAY TV

TORONTO (UPI) — All 35 road games of the Toronto Maple Leafs in National Hockey League play during the 1961-62 season are being made available to pay TV subscribers in the Toronto suburb of Etobicoke.

The thin man in the pro ranks, Dickinson, took his bag of "hot" sticks to Indian Wells Friday and carved six strokes off par to slip in home with a 66 score.

Dickinson, a former LSU golf star, posted two birdies on the back nine which he played at Indian Wells first and then leveled his sights on the front nine. With dead to the pin iron shots, the native of Alabama shaved four strokes off par with four birdies to finish out the 18 holes.

Gene Littler of San Diego, whose smooth swing has captivated fans and writers to such an extent it has been termed "poetry in motion" breezed around the Thunderbird layout in 64 blows. This added to his 67-71 for a total of 202 boosted him up to tie for runner-up spot.

Playing the same Thunderbird course, Arnold Palmer, winner of the British Open in 1961, shot his third sub-par round and carded a 66 to tie him with Littler at 202 for second place.

Both Palmer and Littler are playing the Indian Wells par 72 course today in hopes by nightfall they may have picked up the needed strokes to overtake the leader, Dickinson, who played the long Tamarisk layout.

Former National PGA champion, Jay Hebert, who banked over 33 thousand dollars during the first nine months of tournament play in 1961 and Jacky Cupit, winner of 11 amateur tournament in 1961 and "Rookie of the Year" in 1961 were deadlocked in third place with scores of 205.

Tommy Aaron and Neil Coles were grouped next with scores of 206 followed by Bo Winninger and Dick Mayer with totals of 207 at the start of today's action.

The pre-tourney favorite, Sam Snead is still in contention with a 208 score after firing a 67 Friday on the T-Bird course. He is tied with Tommy Jacobs, Bermuda Dunes pro, and Bob McCallister, pro partner to Albie Pearson, winners of the Bing Crosby program event.

The amateur teams which finished their play at the close of today were lead by the teams of Charles Sparks, Don Bollman and Richard Snideman who were 74 under par.

Next came the team of Fred Whitman, Voe Dalitz and James Doty at 57 under. They were followed by Ed Hilliard, Gordon Erickson and George Goldstein as they were 55 under the regulation figure and the next spot went to the team of Ray Lowell, Chester Paxton and Al Lapierre who were tied with the team of Charles Hanson, Pete Likins and John Saunders with 52 under par.

The leading pros in best ball scoring were Jack Fleck, being 56 under par, Tommy Aaron, 54 under and Ellsworth Vines, Tamarisk Country Club pro, with a 50 under par.

After today's action, the leading 60 pros and ties will play the final 18 holes of the 90-hole merry-go-round at Bermuda Dunes Sunday to decide the winner of the third annual Palm Springs $100,000 Golf Classic.

SECOND DVL DEFEAT

Indians Dumped, 50-42

A severe blow was dealt the Palm Springs Indians last night on the home floor, as they suffered their second Desert Valley League defeat when they were upset by Yucaipa 50-42.

Typical desert weather prevailed outside, but inside the high school gym — Coach George Hertzes' Tribemen were as cold as yesterday's mashed potatoes.

Taylor Stopped

Tyron Taylor, who was leading the DVL in scoring, was held to a mere four points — his lowest for the current season. The Yucaipa five bottled the Palm Springs playmaker up so tight he must have thought he was in a glass cage. Mike Knotek was given the job of guarding the Tribe's whiz kid, and he stuck closed under pages in a book to the DVL leading shotmaker.

The league defeat last night left the Indians with a 3-2 record as they dropped a game to Banning a week ago. The Yucaipa Thunderbirds also gave them a 3 - 2 standing in the DVL.

Things weren't too bad for the Indians during the first stanza, for they only trailed the T-Birds, 14-10 as the buzzer sounded. But during the second quarter the Tribemen only accounted for two —yes two points. Meanwhile, the visiting five were hitting 11 tallies. At halftime the Yucaipa quintet left for the dressing room with a 13 point edge.

Good Third Quarter

The Indians came back strong in the third quarter as they registered more than twice as many points in the score book as the winning five. Coach Hertzes' Tribe picked up 21 markers to the T-Bird's 10 and were trailing only by two points, 35-33 at the start of the final period.

The situation turned from good to bad for the Indians, for in the final stanza they could only account for nine tallies while the Yucaipa five were hitting for 15 —there was the difference in the game as the Thunderbirds left the floor with a 50-42 DVL game tucked in their pocket. Three Indians hit the double digit figure but to no avail. Gus Walton hit an even dozen, Mike Clements accounted for 12 tallies and Mark Edwards added 10 markers.

In the Bee game, the Papooses doubled the score on Yucaipa junior varsity and won easily 48-24. Tuesday night the Indians will host the Indio Rajahs with the Bee game getting underway at 7 p.m.

Fritz Faiss Lectures At Museum Tonight

Fritz Faiss, artist and one of the foremost creators in encaustics, will present a slide-lecture

Radio KDES Airing from New Studios

Broadcasts over Radio Station KDES today are reaching desert area homes from new studios adjoining The Desert Sun at 611 S. Palm Canyon Drive.

General Manager Norman W. Loftus announced, "The new quarters of the station are every bit three times as large as the old station. There are two more main broadcasting studios, one of which will house the recently approved FM facilities. Equipment-wise, the main broadcast studio will be using all the latest electronic innovations, with the promise of dual broadcast in stereo available in the near future. The offices and departments of the station have been greatly expanded to accommodate the growth that has been evidenced in the KDES operation since its inception."

KDES News Director Hap Trout said "With the two newly added mobile broadcasting units to the news department, KDES will certainly manage to keep desert informed to all of the news, and for the most part, actually be on the spot with live coverage."

Date Festival Trip Planned

TWENTYNINE PALMS — The Indio Date Festival will be the destination of the Trip of the Month sponsored by the local Park and Recreation District for February.

The date set for the trip is Feb. 17 and an all-day and evening affair is planned, with visitors remaining at the festival through the evening pageant.

With a full bus-load, the transportation charge should be approximately $1 per person. Reservations may be made by calling the park office.

program at the Palm Springs Desert Museum's Marcuse Auditorium today at 8 p.m. Members of the museum will be admitted to the lecture free of charge.

The title of Faiss' program is "The Bauhaus, Its Artists . . . and Desert Influences." A meet-the-artist coffee hour will follow the program.

Fritz Faiss was born in Furtwangen (Black Forest), Germany in 1905. His education includes study at the Bauhaus in Dessau, the Academy of Fine Arts in Stuttgart, and with Adolf Hoelzel in 1935. He came to the United States in 1951, received a fellowship from the Huntington Hartford Foundation and has since taught at the University of California at Los Angeles, the Otis Art Institute, Pasadena Art Museum and San Fernando Valley State College. (Prior to his arrival in the U.S., he was assistant professor at the Academy of Fine Arts, Stuttgart, and professor at the Staatliche Hochschule in Frankfurt-on-Main.) He became an American citizen in 1956.

The winner of numerous prizes and awards in Europe, including the Rome Prize and Albrecht Durer Prize, Fritz Faiss has his work in the permanent collections of many European museums, as well as those of the Pasadena Art Museum, San Diego Museum, Mills College and others. His works are also in private collections throughout Europe, the U.S., Canada, Mexico, and the Orient.

The artist shared in the Expressionist movement and was forbidden by the Nazi government to exhibit in 1937. Some of his paintings and graphics of the 1930's will be on exhibition at the Desert Museum through Feb. 22.

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — The Desert Hot Springs Improvement Association will meet at 6:30 p.m. today in the Eighth Street Community Center, for its regular monthly potluck dinner and business program.

Lester Morgan, president, announced that Edward Richards-Douglas Aircraft representative will show a color movie on missile warfare, during the 7:30 p.m. business session. The public is invited.

Course on Birds Starts Monday In Palm Desert

PALM DESERT — A new three college unit course on bird study of the North American deserts will be offered here with Dr. Ernest Tinkham instructing, beginning Monday.

Dr. Tinkham announced the course will be held in the Palm Desert Elementary School from 7 to 10 p.m. each Monday.

Dr. Tinkham, noted as a desert naturalist and technical illustrator of scientific books, will conduct Saturday field trips to the Salton Sea, Mecca Duck ponds, the Jayne ranch, Palm and Andreas Canyons, the Thousand Palms Oasis, and Snow Creek during the term.

Registration for Coming State Election Monday

Registration for the forth coming state elections was urged today for all qualified voters regardless of party, as Stanley Spiegelman, president of Palm Springs Area Democratic Club, announced opening of official county registration facilities Monday.

A county deputy registrar will be on duty during office hours in the Desert Democratic headquarters, 139 E. Andreas Road, from Monday until the close of registrations April 12, Spiegelman said. "This service is non-partisan, and we welcome all voters to use this handy mid-town registration point," Spiegelman said.

Voters who have moved since the last state and general election in 1960, or who did not vote in 1960 must register to vote this year.

Councilmen Face Full Calendar

The Palm Springs City Council, now considering the problem of whether or not weekly meetings should continue, will have a full calendar Monday.

At 11 a.m., the city fathers will be represented at the ribbon cutting ceremony for the new Alpha Beta market on Sunrise Way near East Ramon Road. The market, a 21,000 square foot structure, will be the fifth major supermarket here, and the 22nd grocery store in Palm Springs.

At noon Monday, the council will meet with members of the city planning commission to discuss a screening wall height around the Plaza Motors used car lot, plus long-range problems. The luncheon session in the Riviera Hotel's Versailles Room is open to the public, Mayor Frank M. Bogert said. He emphasized the meeting is an official decision function.

At 7:30 p.m. Monday, the council will tackle a page and a half agenda for the weekly council meeting in city hall.

COUNTY GETS $177,202

Riverside County's share of the January split of the Highway Users tax was $177,202, Alan Cranston, state controller, announced from Sacramento. The total state distribution was $31,751,162.

Joshua Park Walks Planned, Start Today

TWENTYNINE PALMS — Plans for the natural history walks and auto tours through the Joshua Tree National Monument during the next few weeks have been released by Park officials this week.

Today, the Live Oak Tank will be the scene of a Natural History Walk. This will be a trip to some outstanding rock formations, and interesting plant and animal associations will be pointed out and discussed.

Hikers should meet the ranger-naturalist at the turn-off to Ivanpah Tank, east of the Jumbo Rock Campground at 2 p.m.

Another hike is scheduled for Sunday at 10 a.m. At this time, the ranger will lead a walk into the Rattlesnake Canyon in the Indian Cove area. Geology, plants and animal life of this unusual canyon will be pointed out.

Those taking the trek should wear hiking shoes and warm clothing. Meeting place is Camp Site 3 in the Indian Cove organizational campground. The Indian Cove area may be reached from the Twentynine Palms Highway, the turn-off being just west of the city limits.

Servite Mission Scheduled at Catholic Church for One Week

A Servite Mission will be conducted in St. Louis Church, the corner of Glenn and "B" Streets, Cathedral City, from Feb. 4 through 10, according to the Pastor, Fr. Joseph Leissler.

This Mission is open to both Catholics and non-Catholics and will feature morning and evening services. (The week-long Mission will be for all the members of the parish as well as visitors and non-Catholics).

Evening services will start at 7:45 p.m. and will consist of recitation of the Servite Rosary, short instruction, sermon and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. The morning services will be at 6:30 and 7:30 a.m. and will consist of Mass, and short doctrinal instruction. Confessions will be heard after the evening devotions and during the morning Masses. At the close of the Mission the Papal Blessing will be imparted to all those who attend.

For Catholics, Father Leissler explains, a parish Mission is an opportunity to hear the main doctrine and obligations of their religion explained and exemplified, with emphasis on the practical application of doctrine and obligation in their everyday life.

'Love' Themes Pulpit Talk at Science Church

The connection between loving one's fellow man and knowing God will be emphasized at the Sunday services in all Christian Science churches. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Love." The Golden Text is from Jeremiah (31:3), "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee."

The sermon will include these citations from I John (4:12, 13, 17), "If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit... God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world."

Mary Baker Eddy declares in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way. Right motives give pinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action."

"When we wait patiently on God and seek Truth righteously, He directs our path." (pp. 454, 254).

A NEW Residential Oasis

SILVER SPUR RANCH

Beyond the private, gated entrance to SILVER SPUR RANCH stretches hundreds of acres of gently sloping land, climbing to meet an imposing backdrop of shadowed mountains.

SILVER SPUR RANCH is the refining climax of its beautiful surroundings. Minutes away are the famous country clubs of the area. Protected by exacting land-use and architectural covenants, exclusiveness is a part of its destiny. A professionally decorated, furnished model home invites your inspection. Garden homes, designed for private luxurious, indoor-outdoor living are nearing completion, scenic homesites are available in two exclusive estate districts. BUNDZA-WETHERN, presenting the homesites and garden homes is a highly professionalized organization known throughout SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

Look for the SILVER SPUR RANCH sign at the corner of Highway 111 and Portola Road in the center of Palm Desert. You will pass a church, a school and Shadow Mountain Country Club on your way to the gated entrance to the ranch.

IT SURE MUST HAVE BEEN HELLISH HOT

Some place in Arizona when the volcanic lava rock—which the builder used with such a lavish hand—was being belched forth from the bowels of the earth. Most of the front exterior and the fireplace is made of this beautiful stuff.

Here's The Most Unusual Home in Palm Springs
IT IS OPEN DAILY UNTIL SOLD

You must see this most unusual builders model (never occupied) 3 bedroom home with its high 12 ft. ceiling and cathedral, multi-colored stained glass window-wall. The off white walls and white high-pile carpeting presents limitless challenge for either the expert or amateur interior decorator.

The glass-walled master bedroom would have charmed the Empress Josephine (if Nap. wasn't spying on her) and both the sunken Roman baths have sliding glass doors which open direct to the pool. The 100x135 lot is fenced and gorgeously landscaped. Priced at only $41,500 with excellent terms.

Hot Springs Couple Have Fancy Old Rolls

By ELLEN SAUNDERS

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — A Rolls Royce emblazoned with the crest of its former owner, George William, Earl of Coventry, may be seen rolling down the streets of Desert Hot Springs these days.

Its new owners are Gen. and Mrs. John S. E. Young, USMC (Ret), more commonly known as Jack and Gussie.

Young, who admits to a long-time yearning for a Rolls Royce, began his search for one which would meet his specifications while vacationing in London in 1960. When Navy friends stationed in England notified him in August, 1961, that such a car was for sale he flew to London, completed the sale and had it shipped home.

The car is a 1937 model, owner-driver, close-coupled, Rolls Royce sports-saloon with a right-hand drive. It has a six cylinder overhead valve, overhead camshaft, 150-horse power engine which is listed by the British as a 25-30 horse power.

Built for Comfort
The car is called a sports saloon because it has a sun top. That is, the front half of the top opens and slides toward the rear.

Although the mileage on the car is registered at 145,000 miles, Young says he is getting 14 miles to the gallon on gasoline. The custom-made body is of aluminum built around wood with the interior wood work a highly polished rosewood. Fenders are of solid aluminum, heavy gage.

The interior of the car is upholstered in leather with rosewood trim and bucket-type front seats.

In order to insure greater comfort the backs of all seats are equipped with air cushions which may be inflated to the desired pressure. The rear seats have folding foot rests. Attached to the back of each bucket seat is a folding picnic table. In each rear corner of the car are built-in rosewood cabinets large enough to hold milady's makeup.

Engine Features
"The amazing thing about the car," says Young, "is that in spite of its age its engine contains many features which have only recently been incorporated into American made cars and a few which are still unknown here."

For instance the car has a 12-volt electrical system with dual spark coil and dual electric fuel pumps, one of which acts as a spare.

Unlike American cars, all bearing lubrication points of the one-shot system are metered, insuring the same amount of oil to each bearing at all times regardless of the wear on the bearing.

Should Young decide to travel over a rough desert trail, he moves a selector valve located on the steering wheel to soft, and hydraulic shock absorbers, whose fluid capacity is automatically controlled by means of a hydraulic pump operated by the transmission, insure him a soft ride.

Special Headlights
The car is equipped with three head lights. The two main ones operate the same as in American cars except that, instead of a double filament bulb, there is a solenoid in each of these lamps which, when a low beam is desired, deflects the entire reflector.

The third head lamp located between the two main lamps has only one control high beam and is used solely for highway travel. Maintenance of upkeep is easier in many ways than that on a modern car, Young explained. The brake adjustment doesn't require a tool, it's done by hand through easily operated wing nuts. Similarly the fan belt adjustment is made by hand, after loosening just one lock-nut. The valve tappet adjustment is made with the engine cold. All valves are set alike to a clearance of three to four thousandths of an inch.

Never A Worry
According to Young, a Rolls Royce owner never has to worry about his stolen hat caps. The reason is that the tools for removing these caps as well as those which operate three self-contained jacks and a crank for turning the engine, are located in the engine compartment. Without access to the tools, it is impossible to remove the hat caps.

THREE HEADLIGHTS are only one of the unusual features of the vintage Rolls Royce recently delivered to Desert Hot Springs. Examining the unusual automobile formerly owned by the Earl of Cov-

Engraved in nickel plate on either side of the car under the running board are the words, Hooper and Co; Body and Coach Builders, Ltd; to

His Majesty, the King Her Majesty, Queen Mary. HRH, the Duke of Connaught. HRH, the Duke of Kent. "And," added Young facetiously, "to Jack and Gussie Young."

German Beer Architects Install Tonight Festival Set For Tuesday

The Palm Springs Elks Lodge, No. 1905, has scheduled a German Beer Festival to be held at its quarters on Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. Scheduled are a live orchestra, playing both contemporary and polka music, authentic German food prepared by famed chef Johnny Remak and "plenty of good draft beer."

The entire proceeds from the affair are handed over to the State Association of the Elks to assist in the major project of the organization in California — working toward helping sufferers of cerebral palsy and crippled children.

The California Elks have in the past donated thousands of dollars to this fund, supplying equipment and facilities to many and various projects.

Friends and guests of Elks are invited to attend the affair. The lodge is located behind Laury's steak ranch on Highway 111.

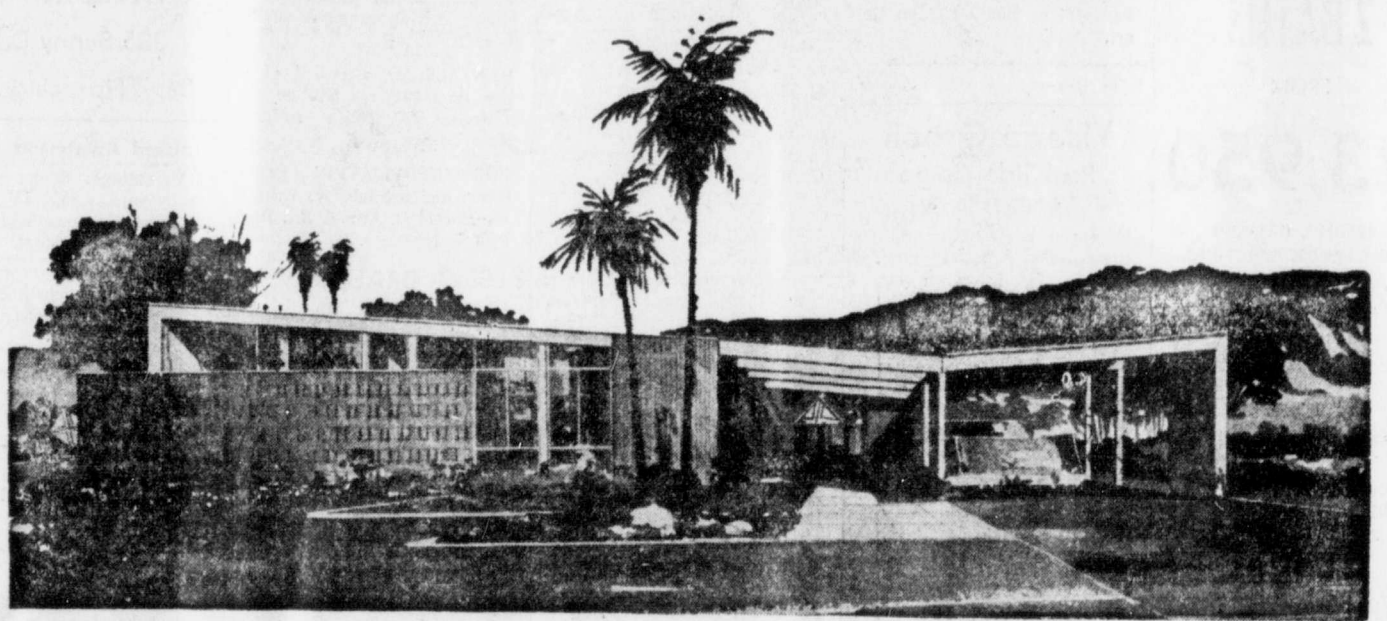

Architects of the Palm Springs and Riverside area will install new officers for the Inland District of the Southern California Chapter of The American Institute of Architects tonight at a dinner in the Racquet Club, Palm Springs.

Los Angeles architect Edward H. Fickett, AIA, president of the Southern California Chapter will install Jack Burg, AIA, Arthur Evans, AIA, and Clinton Marr, AIA, as president, vice president, and secretary, respectively. All are from Riverside.

Palm Springs architect E. Stewart Williams, AIA, retiring president will preside. Burg served as vice president under Williams. Donald Wexler from Palm Springs is outgoing secretary.
